STEWARDSHIP REFLECTIONS

January 28, 2024
4th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Brothers and sisters: I should like you to be free of anxieties. - 1 Corinthians 7:32

How much anxiety do we bring upon ourselves by constantly worrying about not having enough or attaining more things? God won't necessarily give you everything you want, but He will provide everything you need. Try this - use the word "pray" instead of the word "worry" in the future. Then spend your time praying instead of worrying.

4th Sunday of Ordinary Time

We will be having 40 Hours of Adoration of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament beginning Tuesday, February 6th and ending on Friday, February 9th. Here are some excellent reasons to give an Hour to Jesus. Numbers 1-6 were published in the last two bulletins (from Venerable Fulton J Sheen):

7. Reduces Liability to Temptation

It reduces our liability to temptation and weakness. Presenting our-selves before Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament is like putting a tubercular patient in good air and sunlight. The virus of our sins cannot long exist in the face of the Light of the world. "Always I can keep the Lord within sight; always he is at my right hand, to make me stand firm" (Ps. 15:8).

Our sinful impulses are prevented from arising through the barrier erected each day by the Holy Hour. Our will becomes disposed to good-ness with little conscious effort on our part. Satan, the roaring lion, was not permitted to put forth his hand to touch righteous Job until he received permission (Job 1:12). Certainly, then, will the Lord withhold serious fall from him who watches (1 Cor. 10:13). With full confidence in his Eucharistic Lord, the person will have a spiritual resiliency. He will bounce back quickly after a falling: "Fall I, it is but to rise again, sit I in darkness, the Lord will be my light. The Lord's displeasure I must bear, I that have sinned against him, till at last, he admits my plea, and grants redress" (Micah 7:8-9).

The Lord will be favorable even to the weakest of us, if He finds us at His feet in adoration, disposing ourselves to receive divine favors. No sooner had Saul of Tarsus, the persecutor, humbled himself before his Maker than God sent a special messenger to his relief, telling him that "even now he is at his prayers" (Acts 9:11). Even the person who has fallen can expect reassurance if he watches and prays. "They shall increase, that hitherto had dwindled, be exalted, that once were brought low" (Jer. 30:19).

8. Our Holy Hour is Our Personal Prayer

The Holy Hour is a personal prayer. The person who limits himself strictly to his official obligation is like the union man who downs tools the moment the whistle blows. Love begins when duty finishes. It is a giving of the cloak when the coat is taken. It is walking the extra mile. "Answer shall come ere cry for help is uttered; prayer find audience while it is yet on their lips" (Isa. 65:24).

Of course, we do not have to make a Holy Hour — and that is just the point. Love is never compelled, except in hell. There love has to submit to justice. To be forced to love would be a kind of hell. No man who loves a woman is obligated to give her an engagement ring, and no person who loves the Sacred Heart ever has to give an engagement Hour.

"Would you, too, go away?" (John 6:68) is weak love; "Art thou sleep-ing?" (Mark 14:37) is irresponsible love; "He had great possessions" (Matt. 19:22; Mark 10:22) is selfish love. But does the person who loves His Lord have time for other activities before he performs acts of love "above and beyond the call of duty?" Does the patient love the physician who charges for every call, or does he begin to love when the physician says: "I just dropped by to see how you were?"

本堂神父的話

我們將在2月6日星期二開始，持續到2月9日星期五，進行40小時的朝拜聖體。以下是一些為耶穌奉獻一小時的優秀理由。1-6的理由已經在過去的兩個公報中發表（出自擎真福福爾頓·希恩）：

7. 減少誘惑的風險

這減少了我們對誘惑和軟弱的風險。在我們主耶穌聖體面前出時，就像把一位患有結核病的患者置於良好的空氣和陽光之中一樣。我們罪惡的病毒在這位世界之光的面前無法久存。『我常將上主置於我的眼前，我決不動搖，因祂在我右邊。』（詠16:8）。

透過每天聖時所建立的屏障，它阻止我們罪惡沖動。我們的意志在我們自己幾乎沒有自覺努力的情況下變得傾向於善。撒旦，那隻怒吼的獅子，在沒有獲得允許之前，是不被允許伸手去觸摸義人約伯的（約伯記 1:12）。因此，主必定不會讓那些守望的人發生嚴重的跌倒（哥林多前書 10:13）。對我主聖體滿懷信心的人，會擁有一種屬靈的恢復力。他將在跌倒後迅速回彈：『我雖然跌倒，必再起來；我雖坐在黑暗中，但上主是我的光明。因為我得罪了上主，我必須承擔上主的義怒，直到祂審判我的案件，為我主持公道，』（米該亞 7:8-9）。

即使我們中最軟弱的人，如果在朝拜中我主發現我們在祂的腳前，傾向於接受天主的恩寵，天主也會對我們予以憐憫。當大敵掃祿，那個曾經是基督徒的迫害者，在他的造物主面前謙卑自己時，天主立即派遣一位特派使者前來幫助他，告訴他『就是現在，他正在祈禱』（宗徒行傳 9:11）。即使是跌倒的人，如果他保持警醒並祈禱，也可以期待得到安慰。『我必使他們繁昌，人數不再減少；我要顯耀他們，使他們不再受人

輕視。』（耶肋米亞書 30:19）

8. 我們的聖時是我們的個人祈禱

聖時是一種個人祈禱。那些僅限於履行必需義務的人，就像工會工人在哨聲一響就放下工具的人一樣。愛從義務結束的時候開始。這是在被奪去大衣時給予披風的行為。這是多走額外的一哩路。『那時，他們還未呼求，我已答應了；他們還在祈禱，我已俯允了。』（依撒意亞書 65:24）。

當然，我們不一定要花一小時來作聖時——這正是重點所在。愛從來不是被強迫的，除非是在地獄裡。在那裡，愛必須屈服於正義。強迫去愛是地獄的一種。愛一個女人的男人並非有義務送給她一枚訂婚戒指，愛聖心的人也永遠不一定要花一小時來作為一種承諾。

『難道你們也願走嗎？』（若望福音 6:68）是軟弱的愛；『你們不能警醒一個時辰嗎？』（馬爾谷福音 14:37）是不負責任的愛；『因為他擁有許多產業。』（馬竇福音 19:22; 馬爾谷福音 10:22）是自私的愛。但是那些愛主的人在履行『超越職責範圍之外』的愛之前，是否有時間從事其他活動呢？病人是否會愛上那位每次到訪都收費的醫生，或者是在醫生說：『我只是順路來看看你的情況』時開始愛上他呢？

您是否想知道我們教區正在發生什麼，以及其他教區成員如何實踐十年願景？請收聽Corpus Christi的十年願景播客。

讓我們祈禱，40小時的朝拜時間成為本堂區的一段祝福。花一小時與耶穌相伴，請報名參與。

Meditative prayer for us easily distracted Beginners.

By: Fr. Michael Rennie, Aletheia

Today's many distractions have reduced our ability to focus, including in our prayer lives. Fortunately, there is practical advice out there that can help us.

I've always had difficulty praying the Rosary. My mind wanders fast and far. I get distracted and, even though I'm saying the prayers out loud, I'm not actually focused on meditating on the mysteries. I also have difficulty focusing during Mass, which is hugely embarrassing because I'm a priest. Of all people, I ought to be mentally engaged in what's happening.

It's not that I get distracted and lose my place in the prayers. It's more like with the Rosary, I finish saying a prayer only to realize that I did so with a lack of focus. This ought not happen. After all, the Mass is full of imaginative beauty. It walks us through the Passion of Christ in specific detail. It isn't an abstract theological idea. Rather, it's a sustained, intense meditation on the death and resurrection of Our Lord. It ought to grab our attention.

Our modern era, with its constant access to entertainment, mobile phones, television, texting, and distractions has reduced our ability to sustain mental focus for any length of time. When I try to quietly pray, or even simply be still to look at the sky and feel like a human being for a minute, I find myself getting itchy. I want to pull out my phone, see what everyone is up to, check out the trending hashtags, feverishly scroll through digital pictures posted to the hive mind. Finding focus

If we're going to have any kind of prayer life, or even just time to self-reflect, we need to sort this out. I'm convinced that the Catholic Mass, in particular, with its intense and sustained meditative heart, is directly responsible for the flowering of western culture. The creativity and energy required for the great art, literature, and music of medieval and Renaissance Europe didn't arrive from nowhere. It was a beauty that sprung up in the minds and hearts of millions through their willingness to kneel quietly before the God who is the source of all goodness and beauty. The joy and beauty they've created is a testament to the strength of meditative prayer. This is a strong statement, I know, but I really believe it.

This is why it concerned me when I first began noticing my inability to focus. My struggles with meditative prayer, which is a form of imaginative prayer in which a mental picture is developed and lingered over, was particularly concerning. So, I resolved to make progress towards fixing my issues. Although our modern era is particularly damaging to a meditative mindset, the problem isn't new. From time immemorial, humans have been failing to sit still, be quiet, and think. St. Francis de Sales, in his Introduction to the Devout Life, offers practical advice on this topic, noting that thinking sustained thoughts takes practice. But it isn't only a discipline for monks and saints. We'd all be better off with some quiet time for reflection. His advice is for us, the vast majority who lead busy lives.

RECOGNIZE GOD'S PRESENCE

Begin by recognizing the presence of God. Find a quiet place. A church is ideal but home works, too, as long as there are no distractions. Being in a quiet place surrounded by beautiful things – a church, a garden, the back porch looking at the sky – is ideal because beauty remind us of God's presence all around, reflected in the good things he has made. Wherever we are, though, distractions are difficult to shake, so de Sales advises asking God at the beginning for help to calm down and focus, remembering that God is present in the hearts of his children no matter our physical location. His presence is with us wherever we go. Recognizing this divine presence is key.

DON'T COMPLICATE IT

Start with simple devotional prayers – the Rosary, the Lord's Prayer, the psalms. Pray them out loud and intentionally place yourself into the great company of saints who have always prayed these prayers. Invoke your guardian angel and patron saint to pray with you. When we are weak, the Church is strong. She will share her motherly love and sentiment with us and assist us to pray more fruitfully. She will give us grace to keep a quiet heart.

BUILD MENTAL SCENERY

If meditation is to examine the life of Christ so as to develop thankfulness and devotion, then, after our minds are focused, it's vital to build a mental picture. God speaks to us through our imagination, so it goes a long way to build the scene. The mysteries of the faith don't have to be intellectual abstractions. For instance, what did the ocean look like the day Our Lord walked on water? Imagine the sun glinting off the waves. How blue was the water? How blue was the sky? What did the faces of the disciples look like? In this way, says De Sales, we "confine our spirit with the mystery upon which we intend to meditate."

DON'T BE AFRAID TO CALL AN AUDIBLE

"If, while saying your vocal prayers," writes de Sales, "you feel your heart drawn and invited to interior or mental prayer, do not resist the attraction." Stop your vocal prayers and move to a deep level of meditative intimacy as soon as you're ready. This might or might not happen quickly or easily. Sometimes I spend quite a bit of time calming my thoughts before I can move beyond vocal prayer. Even when picturing a scene from the life of Christ, as we might do in one of the mysteries of the Rosary or with a Gospel reading, the first meditative attempt might not capture my imagination. When this happens, de Sales says that, like a bee heading off to a new flower, we can pass on to another mental image. Don't worry if it takes a few tries.

REMAIN CONSISTENT

Form a habit of meditative prayer every single day. Once a week isn't enough. Prayer is our spiritual food, and we should be "eating" every day. Otherwise, we grow weak. De Sales recommends multiple, small breaks during every day.

REMEMBER THE GOAL

Finally, keep in mind why we're making the effort. Why work so hard to meditate? The goal is to form a good resolution through self-reflection. We see something in the life of Christ that's inspiring or challenging, an area of our own lives in which we can increase our love. If prayer is like wandering in a beautiful garden, de Sales says, it makes sense to pluck a flower or two and carry them with you as you go about your day. A person's soul is filled with the object of our meditations. We are what we think. If we think of God, we will become godly. De Sales uses the example of a child listening to his mother, prattling along and imitating her speech. Eventually, by doing so, in some simple but mysterious way, the child learns to speak. If we think about God, the light of the world, and meditate on his shining example, eventually we too will begin to shine.
