- 1 What are my priorities? What are the things I value the most?
- 2 How do I divide my day? Does that division of time reflect what's really important to me?
- 3 Do I make time for both work and rest? Are both part of my daily schedule?
- 4 Do I make time during the week for hobbies such as exercising, reading, painting, etc.?
- 5 How much time do I spend using media for entertainment?
- 6 How much time do I devote to reflection, contemplation, and prayer?
- 7 How much time do I make to connect with others? Family, friends, colleagues, etc.
- 8 How much time do I spend with others, face to face, in relation to how much time I spend using media?

5th Sunday of Lent

Passion Sunday

We are now in the beginning of what is called Passiontide, hard to believe, as this signifies the two weeks before Easter Sunday!

You will notice the cross and statues are covered. Why do we do this? This custom goes back over 1500 years.

On the eve of Passion Sunday, the crucifixes, statues, and pictures in the churches are draped in purple cloth as a sign of mourning. This custom originated in Rome, where in ancient times the images of the papal chapel in the Vatican used to be shrouded when the deacon sang the concluding words of the Sunday Gospel, “Jesus hid himself and went out of the temple” (John 8: 59). The liturgical services of Passiontide are based on what happened to our Lord during the last days before His death, leading up to the mysteries of the Passion. Mystery, in this connection, is the religious term for any episode of Christ’s life related in the Gospels. The Mass texts are dominated by the thought of the Just One, persecuted by His enemies, as He approaches the supreme sacrifice on Golgotha.

The Church, by the way of the purple coverings, also expresses her shame as we put our savior through his passion and death, meaning all of our sins, yours and mine, contributed to Jesus being crucified. This is a time for reflection on the love of God, the love of Jesus for each one of us. He is our model; we owe the Lord Jesus gratitude! Let the “purple” be a teaching for you, let it lead you to reflect on the passion and death of Jesus and how you need to repent and believe in the Good News! Thank Jesus, often, for dying on the cross for you.

Please note in this bulletin the times for Holy Week Masses and Good Friday Commemoration.

There are abundant times for Confession, so strive to avail yourselves of this all important sacrament.

請注意本通訊中的聖週彌撒和受難節禮儀的時間。有大量的機會進行告解，所以努力利用這個至關重要的聖事。

NB: I have been in touch with Dr. Bergsma and after some back-and-forth-discussion we decided to reschedule the Jerusalem Pilgrimage till June 28-July 7, 2025! I hope and pray that with these newly established pilgrimage dates we can and will fill this pilgrimage to the Holy Land.

This will be a blessing that you will NEVER forget! It will be a blessing that will deepen your faith, your relationship with Jesus and his Church; it will have a deep and lasting impact on how you read and pray Sacred Scripture. The time with Dr. Bergsma will be like being in a classroom – understanding the material and not having to take an exam AND passing the course! How much better can you get than that! More information to follow! Pray about going to Jerusalem in 2025 with Dr. Bergsma and fellow parishioners.

United in Prayer,

Fr. Hamilton

四旬期第五主日 本堂神父的話 掩像主日

我們現在進入了所謂的「受難期」的開始，難以置信，因為這意味著我們已在復活節主日前的兩週！

你會注意到十字架和聖像被遮蓋了。為什麼要這樣做呢？這個習俗已有 1500 多年的歷史。

在受難主日的前夕，教堂中的十字架、聖像和畫像都會被用紫色布蓋起來，作為哀悼的象徵。這個習俗起源於羅馬，在古代，當主日福音完結修士們詠唱後，梵蒂岡教廷教堂內的圖像通常被蒙上布，『耶穌卻隱沒了，從聖殿裏出去了』（若望 8:59）。受難期的禮儀服務是基於我主在去世前最後幾天所發生的事情，這些事情導致了受難的奧秘。在這個背景下，「奧秘」是指福音中描述的基督生命的任何事件的宗教術語。彌撒的文本主要圍繞著被敵人迫害的義人，當他走向在加爾瓦略山上的至高犧牲的時候。』

教會通過紫色的覆蓋，也表達了她的羞愧，因為我們讓我們的救主經歷苦難和死亡，這意味著我們所有的罪，你的和我的，都促成了耶穌被釘上十字架。這是一個反思天主的愛、耶穌對每個人的愛的時刻。祂是我們的典範；我們應該感謝主耶穌！讓「紫色」成為你的教導，讓它引導你反思耶穌的苦難和死亡，以及你需要悔改並信仰福音的方式！常常感謝耶穌，因為祂為你在十字架上受死。

備註：我已與伯格斯馬博士聯繫過，經過一番來回討論後，我們決定將耶路撒冷朝聖之旅重新安排至 2025 年 6 月 28 日至 7 月 7 日！我希望並祈禱，有了這些新確定的朝聖日期，我們可以並且填滿這次前往聖地的朝聖之旅。

這將是一個你永遠不會忘記的祝福！它將加深你的信仰，加深你與耶穌和祂的教會的關係；它將對你閱讀和禱告聖經的方式產生深遠而持久的影響。與伯格斯馬博士的時間將會像是在一個教室裡一樣——理解材料而不必受考試的壓力，同時還能順利通過課程！這還能有多好呢！更多的信息將隨後提供！請為 2025 年與伯格斯馬博士和其他教友一起前往耶路撒冷祈禱。

祈禱中一起的
Hamilton 神父

How the early Christians lived their lives: 5 ways to be a witness today

By Nicolás de Cárdenas, ACI Prensa Staff

The book “The Example of the First Christians,” published in 2023 by the University of Navarra, examines the early followers of Jesus of Nazareth, whose lives continue to inspire and resonate with Catholics of all times, including today.

The book’s author, Gabriel Larrauri, explained to ACI Prensa, CNA’s Spanish-language news partner, that although people and circumstances change over the centuries, those who trusted in the words of Jesus and in the transmission of his message through the apostles “experienced a situation similar to the current one, and they faced its risks with complete naturalness.”

Larrauri summarizes five hallmarks of early Christian living that continue to be applicable to Christ’s followers today.

1. Total commitment

For the author, the first followers of the Gospel message “are proof of how the world can be transformed.”

They were “normal people who knew how to be heroic, men and women who in their ordinary lives achieved extraordinary things and left a profound mark on the history of humanity.”

2. Coherence and courage

For Larrauri, those who formed the first communities of followers of Christ “are like lights that come from afar and that illuminate us today.” Specifically, “considering their fidelity and their courage can help us a lot.”

The author pointed to “their example of transforming the world from within, without living apart, shutting themselves off or evading the daily reality of the society in which they lived.”

Just like today in some contexts, the first Christians were few in number, lacked human wherewithal and didn’t have, at least for a long time, great thinkers or important public figures, Larrauri explained.

Coherence and courage are the key to understanding how “they were not intimidated” in the midst of a social environment marked by “indifferentism” and a lack of values, “similar in many ways to what we are facing now.”

3. Countercultural

The third quality the first Christians had that Larrauri highlighted is the ability to face persecution. “The Church upholds a lifestyle that must be lived against the tide,” which is why “being a Christian today can be described as risky.”

In fact, according to Aid to the Church in Need (ACN), Christianity “is the most persecuted religion in the world,” Larrauri noted, and so “having the first Christians to look to helps us face these circumstances.”

Knowing their example, “even going so far as to give their lives to remain steadfast in their faith, can fill us with strength,” the author pointed out.

4. The Eucharist

From the beginning, the celebration of the Eucharist “played a central role” in the life of the first Christians. “It is wonderful to see the faith and love with which the first Christians treated Jesus in the Eucharistic bread,” Larrauri noted, adding that “it is moving to see how we continue to celebrate the same Mass that was celebrated in the first century.”

5. Loving others

In addition to all this, there was the mutual love, brotherhood, and care they had for each other. For Larrauri, “perhaps the greatest characteristic of the life of the first Christians was how they knew how to love one another. This was to be the sign by which the pagans would recognize them.”

Loving one another as Jesus Christ did “is the legacy they have left us and what we must transmit. It’s not just about philanthropy or humanitarianism: They are willing — as Tertullian said — to give their lives for others,” Larrauri explained.
